DETAILED ACTION

In view of the remand from the Board of Appeals dated 1/19/2007

PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. New rejections are set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) initiate a new appeal by filing a notice of appeal under 37 CFR 41.31 followed by an appeal brief under 37 CFR 41.37. The previously paid notice of appeal fee and appeal brief fee can be applied to the new appeal. If, however, the appeal fees set forth in 37 CFR 41.20 have been increased since they were previously paid, then appellant must pay the difference between the increased fees and the amount previously paid.

A Supervisory Patent Examiner (SPE) has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below:

The rejection of claims 38-40, 43, 46-48, 52, 54-56, 59, 62-64, 67-70, 73, 76-78 and 81-84 stand affirmed by the BPAI decision of 1/19/2007.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 53, 79 and 80 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Duncan et al (US# 5681800) in view of Funkhouser (US# 2630193).

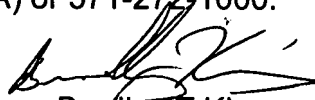

Duncan et al disclose biodegradable lubricants and further discloses a variety of applications including hydraulic fluids (see column 1, lines 30-33). The compositions in tables 3 or 8 include trimethylpropane (polyol component) with a carboxylic acid component (for instance, 7810 or n-c7,8,10)) having a mixture of linear C6 and C8 acids (note table 1 where Duncan discloses that a typical C810 sample contains both C6 and C8 acids) capable of at least 80% biodegradability. Funkhouser discloses all the features of the shock absorber including a cylinder 20 containing a fluid, a piston rod 26, a piston, first and second chambers and means for permitting fluid communication being disposed in at least a portion of the piston. Funkhouser remains silent as to the composition of the fluid within the absorber. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the fluid disclosed by Duncan et al with a shock absorber as taught by Funkhouser as an obvious implementation of the fluid which addresses environmental concerns with regards to leaking shock absorbers.
